Denver Region Portrait of America Road Tour Driving Home the Census Message

Since January 4, the 2010 Census Portrait of America Road Tour has been traveling across the Denver Region educating communities about the 2010 Census and encouraging everyone to complete and return their census forms. This free, interactive, and entertaining tour experience is specifically designed to inspire interest in the 2010 Census and encourage census participation – especially among hard-to-count populations. The Road Tour provides the public with information that brings the benefits of the 2010 Census to life and makes the census relevant to those who attend.

As of March 15th, with a stop in Wind River, Wyoming, the tour will have visited all 10 states in the Denver Region. That's no small feat, covering 10 states and more than 6,500 miles in 70 days, but we're not done yet! There are still more events to come, with stops in Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona, including appearances at the Pow Wow in Denver on the March 19th, Census Day April 1st in Yuma, Arizona, and the beginning of baseball season with the Arizona Diamondbacks opening day April 5th and the Colorado Rockies first weekend home game April 10th.
